Reflections- To inculcate the importance of caring for animals the Pre- primary department celebrated Pet Day. The main objective of organizing pet day was to bring awareness and create a sense of responsibility in the minds of tiny tots on how we need to love and care for other living beings.

A few enthusiastic parents having pets at home took some time out from their busy schedules to let children have hands-on experience and learn about caring for pets. They provided information about the food their pets eat and the kind of care that has to be taken at home. The children were excited and thrilled to touch the animals and observe their movements and behaviour. They were curious to know more about pets and even put forth their questions to the parents.

Pets such as Dogs, Turtle, Parrots, Love birds, Persian cat, Mouse, gold fish, Guinea Pigs, Red Throttled Chic and a Black Pigeon visited the Pre -primary department. The parents too were happy interacting and communicating with the children.
