

SHRAMDAN (P1-P5)

On a bright Thursday morning, the atmosphere at Gyan Bharati School in Delhi was charged with enthusiasm as the students of the Primary department gathered for a unique and exciting event - the 'SHRAMDAN' programme.

The purpose of this programme was to instill in the students a sense of responsibility towards cleanliness and hygiene, and to create awareness about its benefits. It was heartening to see the entire P1 to P5 student body and even the teachers, coming together as a team to make this drive a grand success.

With great zeal, the students divided themselves into teams, each with a specific task at hand. Some armed themselves with brooms and brushes, while others went ahead with dusting rags and garbage bags. The playground, which was usually scattered with litter and wrappers, was given a makeover as the students picked up every single piece of garbage and disposed of it in the appropriate bins.

As the cleaning drive progressed, the students began to understand the importance of keeping their surroundings clean and the impact it could have on their health and well-being. After completing their task, the students took a pledge to keep their homes, neighbourhoods, and cities clean and green.

The 'SHRAMDAN' programme turned out to be a unique and enriching experience for the students. It not only helped them to stay away from dirt and diseases but also taught them to live a healthy and happy life. The event ended with a sense of pride and accomplishment, knowing that the students had taken an important step towards creating a cleaner and healthier environment for themselves and those around them.
