Reflections:

"To this end, the greatest asset of a school is the personality of the teacher."

-John Strachan

The main objective of this workshop was to create awareness about the National Education Policy-2020 amongst teachers and to familiarize them with the skills to help them understand its nuances, curriculum changes, the shift in pedagogical skills and its implementation for the holistic development of its stakeholders, the students.

The session kickstarted with an interesting activity by Ms. Alankrita Upadhyay, Subject reviewer where in she creatively introduced a place called Imaginaria with no infrastructure, financial, medical and educational facilities. The responses were given in an interesting way paving a way for an interactive and enlightening session.

She explained that the new National Educational Policy-2020 seeks to introduce and implement a sea of changes across all levels of education in India. Further, she apprised the educators that the New Education Policy is based on the pillars of access, equity, equality, affordability, accountability and will transform India into a vibrant knowledge hub. She expressed the importance of using a holistic and multidisciplinary approach which will enable the learners to adapt and reinvent themselves to the demands of socio-cultural changes.

The session culminated with a group presentation by all the educators. The main aim of the activities was to ensure to use Integrated approach in teaching learning process. The educators expressed their concerns and raised their queries which were successfully addressed by the resource person. The resource persons stated that the policy envisions a complete overhaul and re-energizing of the education system to deliver high quality education with equity and inclusion.

The workshop was very enlightening and interactive and was thoroughly enjoyed by us.
